

CUES AND CLUES:

Utilize the services provided by the Student Conduct Review Team when a student:

- Exhibits an outburst or disturbing behavior in a classroom or other campus location.
- Submits a "dark" or otherwise disturbing passage in a written work.
- Makes threats involving guns, other weapons, or explosive devices either verbally or in writing (including electronically through social networks).
- Reports being troubled by what appears to be "stalking" behavior.
- Acts in a manner or makes statements that are interpreted as posing a threat of violence.
- Exhibits gestures that appear bizarre, threatening, or dangerous (in person or on videotape).
- Becomes extremely angry and unleashes a loud and abusive verbal attack (perhaps regarding a poor or failing grade).
- Habitually demands services beyond the scope and mission of the office or department, or after regular hours of service.

Student Conduct Review Team

The Student Conduct Review Team (SCRT) assists University of Kansas students, faculty and staff who have concerns about a specific student's behavior and don't know where to turn.

SCRT engages in activities designed to: educate the University community in the early detection and reporting of potentially dangerous behavior; assist in the assessment of reported disturbing student behavior, provide referrals to appropriate resources, provide consultation regarding behaviors of concern, and address concerns for safety which are directly related to student behavior.

Purpose

Prevention

- Encourage the prompt reporting of behaviors of concern to the SCRT.
- Encourage early identification of individuals who may be experiencing difficulty coping with their environment or life circumstance.

Education

- Provide information to faculty, staff, and students regarding the indicators of potentially dangerous or troublesome behaviors.

- Inform faculty, staff and students of existing and relevant policies and protocols which provide a course of action to address various alleged behaviors.

Consultation

- Provide recommendations regarding University sanctions or disciplinary actions to appropriate University authorities in cases of extreme violation of the Code of Students' Rights and Responsibilities.
- Provide information and consultation regarding appropriate response options to student related difficult situations.
- Assist with the development of an appropriate response to behaviors which warrant concern.

Assessment

- Respond to concerns regarding a student's observed or reported behavior.
- Investigate circumstances surrounding the reported concerns.
- Determine the student's need for further assessment of dangerousness to self or others.
- Recommend enforcement or education options that may be selected by University Officials in response to specific and verified student behaviors.
